October 2 Evening Program at Ivar’s Salmon House: Discovery & Chatham with Steve Mayo
Northwest maritime artist and PSMHS member Steve Mayo will give a PowerPoint presentation describing the new research behind his latest watercolor painting of the HMS Discovery & Chatham on Wednesday, Oct 2, 6 pm at Ivar’s Salmon House.

With the help of exciting recent research on the appearance of Captain Vancouver’s flagship, the HMS Discovery, Mayo was able to create a painting of the two ships while they were becalmed in Rosario Strait on June 9, 1792. This painting was given a first place award at the Mystic Seaport International Marine Art Exhibition in September 2012.

In his presentation, Steve Mayo will describe his process of incorporating this new information to create a more accurate view of the famous ship as she appeared in 1792.

This painting will be a part of an upcoming article for THE SEA CHEST being submitted by members Mike Mjelde and Steve Mayo coming sometime in 2014. We are honored to have Steve Mayo giving us this wonderful program.
Volunteer Spotlight: Donna Gordon

Avid researcher Donna Gordon became familiar with PSMHS through her time working with research volunteer Karl House. She joined the Society several years ago to express her appreciation of Karl’s efforts to help her with her research project and to learn more about the maritime history of the region.

A regular program attendee, Donna signed up to help with the periscope building at the MOHAI Grand Opening. Since December, Donna has joined our Blue Vest Crew and has volunteered with every First Thursday activity at the McCurdy Family Maritime Gallery in MOHAI. Donna says, “I enjoy volunteering because I learn more about maritime history from the other volunteers.”

Outreach Volunteers Needed

Do you enjoy speaking to and working with children? Do you have a general knowledge of Pacific Northwest maritime history? Do you reside in the greater Seattle area and have the ability to travel to schools?

We are looking for several on-call volunteers who would be interested in enhancing our Maritime Outreach Kit by providing additional classroom support. We’ve recently had a few teachers contact us with special requests and we would like to have some volunteers able to assist these teachers.

If you are interested, please contact Karen Marshall for more information by email or phone.

Volunteer Outreach Kit

We thank Donna for bringing her great enthusiasm, ideas and energy each month to our outreach program.

Technical Difficulties in August

Our apologies to members who unsuccessfully attempted to email us during the month of August. We experienced intermittent email reception and then all emails to @pugetmaritime.org were rejected and all email history was lost while we were changing website hosting companies. We are now back online and have all of our email addresses working.

If you tried to contact us and were unsuccessful, please give us a call or send us an email.

From Our Archives

On January 12, 1950, a special meeting of Society members at the offices of Marine Digest decided to propose to the entire Society purchase of the steamer Cheakamus for delivery “to a designated mooring in Seattle for use as a museum.”

The Society subsequently concluded that maintenance costs would be too great for its resources.
